

HBIT NEWSFLASH Edition #1 11th April 2014

Introduction –

First of all, welcome to the first HBIT Newsflash of the business. In this newsflash, I will be talking briefly about my plans for the future.

News Distribution –

My news articles (like this one) may not be every week or every month, but they will happen. News will be uploaded to my OneDrive (formally SkyDrive) account for you to download. The link to download will be on the news tab of my website and in email to the people who have signed up for the newsletter/news.

Plans –

My plans for the future are to help out family and friends who need IT Support. I have made an FAQ's page on my site and a YouTube page to help out in video.

My YouTube Channel –

You can visit my Youtube channel at https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCQMOK82mygUve_kxAWv0ISg . The purpose is to show videos alongside the FAQ page of the site. It will show how to do certain things on IT devices.

Conclusion –

I hope you have enjoyed my first newsflash and please remember to keep up to date at: harrybrayfordit.weebly.com

Thanks for reading, see you next time.
